

ZEPPELINS SEEK BRITISH FLEET

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, April 3.—Confirmation of recent reports that the latest Zeppelin raids over England were for the purpose of locating the British grand fleet is seen in the fact that the coast of Scotland was attacked by the Zeppelins which took part in the raid last night.

Sunday night's attack, the third in three nights, will be followed by still other air raids within a short time, it is believed.

The Zeppelins are now being equipped with a new kind of searchlight of high power and also illuminating bombs which are used in searching the land and water beneath the ships.

Very careful search was made of the coast and particularly the harbors where the Germans evidently expected to find warships at anchor. The fact that the grand fleet has been reported in the vicinity of Kirkwall, Scotland, evidently led the German Zeppelins to attack in the northern part of the British Isles in hope of finding the anchorage of the fleet. That theory was generally advanced today.

So intense has feeling become over the wholesale killing of women and children by Zeppelins that the demand is being made for the execution of Lieut. Commander Breit, Haupt, commander of the Zeppelin "L-15," which was brought down in the estuary of the Thames on Friday night.

Newspapers declare that it would be just punishment to inflict upon the commander of a raiding airship.

Captain Breitaupt is quoted in the Times as saying he fully expected to be shot, if captured.

"I take full responsibility," said the German. "My men are not responsible."

The Central News states that 20 bombs were dropped in agricultural districts of a northeastern county, and 20 more upon a town upon the east coast of Scotland.

THREE KOSHER BUTCHERS ARRESTED

They Are Charged With Selling Meat on Sunday—Arraigned This Morning and Trial Adjourned Until April 12.

A round-up of kosher butchers was made on Sunday by Policeman Robert F. Healy, who notified David Farber with a shop at No. 70 Chambers street, Isaac Farber of No. 20 East Union street, and Louis Amador of No. 10 Meadow street, to appear before Recorder Lang in recorder's court this morning to answer to the charge of selling meat on Sunday.

All three men were arraigned this morning and the charge read to them by the court. They all said that while they sold meat on Sunday they always kept their shops closed on Saturday. By keeping closed the last day of the week they thought that they were not breaking the law by keeping open on Sunday.

Recorder Lang said that he would adjourn all three cases until Wednesday, April 12, as on April 11, he would try the case of Jacob Siller of Chambers street who was arrested a few days ago charged with selling meat on Sunday. In the Siller case, the complaint alleges that Siller sold meat both on Saturday and Sunday. As the court wanted to dispose of the Siller case first he adjourned the other cases until the time stated.

SCHERMERHORN BOY ON PROBATION

Boy Who Shot Abie Bacharach Pleading Guilty and Sentence Suspended—Placed on Probation for a Year.

This morning in children's court, before Recorder Lang, Frank Schermerhorn, the 13 year old boy, who shot Abie Bacharach some time ago, entered a plea of guilty to the charge through his attorney, Andrew J. Cook. The court sentenced the boy to Randall's Island but suspended sentence and placed the lad on probation for one year, to report each week to Probation Officer Wiedemann.

The Schermerhorn case had been adjourned several times in order to have the wounded man in court when the case was tried. Abie was shot in the back and was seriously injured. He was conveyed to the Benedictine Sanatorium and was later removed to his home. He appears to have entirely recovered from the effect of his wound. The bullet was fired from a .300 Smith & Wesson.

It is understood that the boy's father also assumed a part of the hospital bill incurred by the wounding of Abie.

NO LIVES LOST IN NEW YORK FIRE

Spectacular Blaze at Beekman and Nassau Streets Gave Rise to Rumors of Heavy Loss of Life—Only Smoke in Morse Skyscraper.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, April 3.—A spectacular fire which threatened for a time to cause serious loss of life, occurred in the heart of the downtown district this afternoon when fire broke out in the five story structure at 16 Beekman street.

The flames spread rapidly to the adjoining building at 18 Beekman street.

The buildings were mainly occupied by paper manufacturing plants, the paper offering fuel which caused the fire to spread quickly and burn fiercely.

There were about 125 persons employed in the buildings, many of them being girls. It was feared that some of the employees had lost their way in the smoke filled corridors and had been trapped, but half an hour after the fire had started the firemen announced that everyone in the two buildings had been saved.

Intense volumes of smoke rolled up from the burning buildings, hailing the 16-story Morse building at 140 Nassau street, giving rise to reports that it too was on fire.

Four alarms were turned in and the streets in the vicinity of the blaze were so jammed with people that police reserves had to be called to clear them.

The firemen were handicapped by the intense heat and the narrowness of the streets. The tenants of the 14-story Vanderbilt building at 130 Nassau street and the 16-story Morse building at 140 Nassau street were ordered out as the wooden window frames in the rear of both structures began to flame up. Firemen took complete possession of the Vanderbilt building, stopped the elevators and ran lines of hose to the upper stories, from which vantage spots they turned water upon the blaze.

By 2:30 the blaze was under control but the walls had bulged and bricks and other debris was falling in such masses that the firemen were imperiled.

VILLA ESCAPES PURSUING ARMY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

San Antonio, Tex., April 3.—Major General Funston was inclined today to accept as true the unofficial reports reaching the border that Francisco Villa had again made his escape. He intimated, however, that the American troops pursuing the bandit were close to Chihuahua City and that important developments might be expected soon.

General Pershing, commander of the punitive expedition, has himself gone to the far southern front. This indicates, according to officers at Fort Sam Houston, that an even more important battle than that fought in the Guerrero district five days ago is imminent.

"I want it distinctly understood by the American public," said General Funston, "that we have not got Villa surrounded. We never thought we had."

"Part of the country we were led to believe Villa was in is in a measure cornered by troops, but we have not men enough to surround such an area of country as is covered by varying reports as to Villa's whereabouts."

The extreme cold and snowstorms in the mountain districts whether the American troops have penetrated are causing Villa's pursuers intense suffering, and General Funston hopes that the campaign can be quickly terminated. He pointed out, too, that if the soldiers had been given heavy outfits the opening march across the desert many would have collapsed.

NEW ENGINEER ON THE POWELL

Burt Greenison of New York Appointed Chief Engineer of Mary Powell—Day Line Season Opens May 12 With Albany on Route.

Burt Greenison of New York city has been appointed chief engineer of the rejuvenated Mary Powell. The old Queen of the Hudson has had extensive alterations made and is now in excellent shape for the opening of the season. At present she is still in winter quarters in the creek. The Day Line season will open this year on May 12, with the steamer Albany on the route between Rondout and New York. It is not known just when the Powell will go into commission.

Fatal Fire in Middletown.

Frank Eiman, a chauffeur, lost his life and three others were seriously injured Saturday in Middletown when the oil plant of D. W. Fenton & Company was destroyed in a spectacular fire. In all 14,000 gallons of oil were consumed and the total loss will reach $20,000.

AUTOMOBILE SHOW A GRAND SUCCESS

Dealers Will Not Be Called Upon to Make up Deficit, as There is None—Closing Night Well Attended.

Kingston's big automobile show came to a close on Saturday night with one of the biggest crowds of the three days in attendance. There was perhaps one day, when Governor Whitman attended, that more people crowded the big drill shed in an endeavor to hear the chief executive of the state. The crowd which attended on Saturday night assured the financial end of the show and relieved the dealers who had guaranteed to make up the deficit if there was one.

Everyone was high in praise for the manner in which the show was conducted and dealers who had attended the other shows along the river announced that without a doubt Kingston's first automobile show was the most successful of any in the Hudson Valley.

Never was a warmer reception given by an assemblage than that accorded Judge William D. Cunningham who was with the Hon. Albert S. Callan, the speaker on the closing night. Not even the governor of the state was received with more enthusiasm than the former district attorney of Ulster county and present judge of the court of claims.

Mayor Palmer Canfield, who introduced the speakers, paid the high tribute to Judge Cunningham and spoke of him as "a man of gubernatorial caliber and how much greater I do not know."

For a time Judge Cunningham spoke in a rather light and amusing tone telling of his reception in this city, referring to the crowd which was at the Rhebeck ferry on Thursday as coming to greet him, while the governor's presence was a mere incident. Mr. Cunningham said while the governor had been asked to open the show he had been asked to close it and illustrated his speech with humorous remarks. But beside the light, humorous remarks Judge Cunningham had a real message to deliver.

Country Neighbors Best Asset.

The substance of his remarks was that with an idea of securing 50 or 75 new residents for the city an endeavor was constantly being made to secure new factories and new industries while the real benefits which lay at our doors were neglected. The people from the outlying towns are the best asset of the city, he said, and the nearby towns will bring more business to this city than several small manufacturers if they are encouraged and helped. As an example Mr. Cunningham used his own town, Ellenville. "A few years ago, Kingston, to the people of Ellenville, was simply a place where a man went once in a long while to serve as a juror at $2 per day. The valley railroad was built and the people of the two towns were brought in closer touch. The state road was built between Ellenville and to within a few miles of the city, and there it still stops." Complete the road to this city was what the judge urged. Here is a stretch of road three miles long before entering the city and in the city Hurley avenue both in a wretched condition and Judge Cunningham's opinion was that if better entrances were made to the city the traveling public would receive a better impression of our city and more real benefit would be derived than from the securing of a small concern.

Through the endeavors of the present administration Hurley avenue will be improved this year and a beginning in the direction pointed out by Judge Cunningham will be made. He also spoke of the four miles beyond Ellenville in Ulster county and eight miles in Sullivan county which once constructed would give a continuous route from Kingston to one of the greatest main arteries of travel in the state. The main highway through the southern tier from New York to Buffalo is separated from Kingston by only twelve miles of uncompleted highway and an endeavor made or influence exerted toward having these twelve miles built will be a direct step toward a bigger and better Kingston.

Judge Cunningham also touched upon the automobile as an asset in warfare and spoke of the present trouble in Mexico. "The forces which were supposed to be prepared for at least this emergency at hand, when the time came, found they were not," for a time the force was unable to move until a number of motor trucks were secured. A few days later another order was placed by the government for trucks and at present scores of these most important vehicles are at work on the border doing the work which it was found horses were unable to do. A brief tribute was paid the flag of the country and when Judge Cunningham concluded his talk a message had been left with the people of Kingston which should be given the most earnest consideration of every person of Kingston.

Father of Automobile Law.

The Hon. Albert S. Callan, father of the present Callan automobile law, was introduced and told of his work in the drawing up of the present automobile law, probably one of the best in existence in any state in the union. Mr. Callan, at the time of the drafting of the present law, did not face the conditions which must be faced today. When the present law was drawn up the automobile industry had not reached its present gigantic proportion and the fact that the law is able to cover nearly all of the conditions which arise today are evidence of the thorough manner in which the work was done back in 1910 when the law went into effect.

Strange to say Mr. Callan is not an automobilist and the law might be said to have been drawn from the pedestrian side of the fence. The Brown bill, which would take the burden of maintenance from the state and place part of it upon the county, was spoken of by Mr. Callan. He wanted to see legislation passed which was necessary to regulate automobile business but in his opinion a great deal of the legislation was unnecessary. Mr. Callan is a firm believer that all vehicles which use the highways should be taxed. He also paid a handsome tribute to the management of the show and spoke of the excellent work done toward the success of the show by Captain Fowler, chairman of the executive committee.

He spoke of the Kingston show as one of the best he had ever attended and was loud in his praise for the work done by the committees.

On the speaker's platform beside Mr. Callan and Judge Cunningham were Mayor Canfield and Judge Jenkins.

SPANISH CROWN PRINCE AN EXPERT HORSEMAN.

The heir to the throne of Spain, like his father, King Alfonso, is decidedly fond of outdoor athletics. Prince Alfonso will celebrate his ninth birthday on May 10, next and is already an accomplished horseman. King Alfonso is rated as one of the best polo players on the continent.

CARNEGIE MAKES A NEW RECORD

American Scientific Expedition Goes Around the World in 120 Days and is Now at Lyttelton, New Zealand.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Lyttelton, N. Z., April 3.—The American scientific yacht Carnegie arrived here today after completely circumnavigating the globe in a southern latitude. It covered 17,000 miles in 120 days, establishing a new record.

Valuable scientific information was secured by the Carnegie in regions which had never before been properly surveyed.

The Carnegie is the famous non-magnetic ship built for the department of Terrestrial Magnetism of the Carnegie Institute in Washington. Practically no iron, steel or other magnetic metal was used in its construction.

The ship sailed from New York in March, 1915, for a two year cruise in antarctic and other waters. Previous to that time it had traveled more than 200,000 miles in the interest of science. During the summer of 1914 it surveyed the waters about Iceland and Greenland.

During the antarctic voyage just ended the Carnegie crossed the course of Sir Ernest Shackleton's exploration ship Aurora.

This morning Mr. Raider appeared in court in answer to the charge. He said that he had a number of chickens stolen from his place and that even his cow had been milked while he was in the jail and as a result he had bought an English bulldog to protect his property. He claimed that the dog was playful but had never bitten anyone. He said that when he was notified by the officer of a complaint being made regarding the dog that he had chained the animal up. Recorder Lang held the case open for one week.

IN SPECIAL TERM ON SATURDAY

Arguments in the divorce suit brought by J. Henry Wright against Effa Wright were heard by Judge Hasbrouck at a special term of supreme court Saturday. They were married on January 27, 1908, and prior to Thanksgiving Day, 1915, lived at Cragmoor, when the plaintiff alleges he found that his wife was living with James Frompton at a boarding house at Corona, Long Island.

Miss Elizabeth Wright, sister of the plaintiff and a school teacher at Cragmoor, said that she knew Frompton, who boarded with Wright and worked for him occasionally. Miss Wright testified that she was standing on the porch of her schoolhouse some time around election when she saw Mrs. Wright drive past in a wagon with two men whom she recognized as Mrs. Wright's brother, Leonard, and Frompton. Upon returning home soon after, Mrs. Wright, accompanied by her brother and Miss Wright, drove to Corona for her belongings and at the boarding house Miss Wright said she saw men's clothing and a shaving set. Mrs. Wright then stayed a while at Cragmoor and later spent a week at her Corona lodging place, where she is alleged to have been in company with Frompton.

Otto Marl, brother of the defendant, testified that Frompton's father owned a residence in Corona, but the two rooms mentioned by the previous witness were not located there. The witness was unable to give the location of the lodging place where Mrs. Wright and Frompton roomed. He said that his sister had told him that her husband went out with different women and was intimate with them.

The landlady of the boarding house was not present to give her knowledge of the case and for that reason Judge Hasbrouck continued the case until her testimony could be given.

H. Westlake Coons appeared for the plaintiff and there was no appearance on the part of the defendant.

Albany Gangster Carroll's Troubles.

Application was made for a certificate of reasonable doubt by John H. Dugan of Albany, counsel for Paul Carroll, recently convicted by a jury of the crime of assault in the second degree. The granting of the certificate was opposed by District Attorney Harold Alexander of Albany county. The reason for the application was because of the insufficiency of evidence. Mr. Dugan claiming that the county judge had excluded testimony beneficial to the defendant in not allowing two policemen to testify as to a conversation they had with the complaining witness.

Carroll and another were arrested after a man had been stabbed in the head, chest, back and leg and another had had his face slashed, all of which injuries were the outcome of a fight between "cheap gangsters." Although Carroll has been tried and convicted his accomplice has not yet been before the bar of justice for his part of the crime. Mr. Dugan argued that the complaining witness, Van Bramer, told policemen that neither Carroll nor his accomplice stabbed him but he was unable to bring the evidence before the jury because of the ruling of the court. The attorneys submitted affidavits.

$20,000 Claim For $9,200 Contract.

In the case of the Covert Manufacturing Company of Troy against the Robert Gaer Company of New York city, Clarence McMillan, attorney for the defendant, applied for a bill of particulars and a change of venue. The suit is an action to recover $20,000 growing out of an alleged breach of contract amounting to $9,200 incurred in a sale of paper cartons by the plaintiff to the defendants, who claim that the contract was signed by one of their salesmen who had no authority to do so and therefore the defendants are not bound by his act.

The change of venue was asked on the grounds of convenience of witnesses. The case was scheduled to be tried in Albany county but Mr. McMillan asked that it be sent to Kings county. Affidavits were filed by both lawyers.

Application For Receiver of Allen Co.

Augustus Van Buren made application for the appointment of a temporary receiver in the action brought by Bowyer & Barrowall against the J. W. Allen Lumber Company, Inc. of Fleischmanns. The application was opposed by Eugene E. Howe of Fleischmanns, counsel for the defendant, who argued that the defendant company is not insolvent and that already there is an injunction against the company which would restrain the sale of the property. Mr. Howe promised that by June the company would pay one hundred cents on the dollar. Affidavits were filed.

Judge Hasbrouck granted $25 counsel fee in the divorce action of Elizabeth Keener against Fred Keener. N. Frank O'Reilly represented the plaintiff and George Kaufman the defendant, the latter making no opposition to Judge O'Reilly's motion.

An order of voluntary dissolution was granted the Up-to-Date Manufacturing Company, Inc. Van Buren & Loughran appeared for the company.

Mr. Scheurmann was taken prisoner of war by the forces of the allies on one of the Samoan islands soon after the outbreak of the war. After a year and a half he succeeded in gaining his freedom, and then began a voyage rich in adventure and romance, during which the voyage almost encircled the globe. By means of over fifty slides, the pictures of which were taken by the lecturer, Mr. Scheurmann will illustrate his most interesting experiences.

The KITCHEN CABINET

Every man is ready to give in a long catalogue of those virtues he expects to find in the mother of a friend, but very few of us are careful to cultivate them in ourselves.—Buddell.

SOME GOOD DRIED FRUITS.

When meeting an empty fruit closet remember the delicious dishes to be prepared from the dried fruits always at our command. Prunes are not half appreciated. Some foolish person in ages past called them the "boarding house sauce" and it is hard to get away from the idea that the prune is the last resort.

Prunes washed and soaked over night and stewed in the water in which they were soaked without a bit of sugar added are extremely wholesome and most appetizing as a breakfast dish or in combination with other materials in various dishes.

Combined with apples in the proportion of two cupsful of chopped apple to one-half cupful of stewed prunes used as a top dressing to pork chops, baked in the oven after seasoning with salt and pepper, is a dish which once used will often be repeated.

Chopped apple combined with raisins and used in pastry as a pie or pudding is another most tasty dish.

Dried apples used with molasses, soaked over night in the molasses and spices makes a nice fruit cake. Use pork finely chopped for shortening.

Fig Marmalade.—Cut into pieces one pound of figs and three pounds of rhubarb. Add three pounds of sugar and the juice and grated rind of a lemon, mix and stand over night. In the morning simmer for a half hour until it looks clear, then seal.

Apricot Marmalade.—Wash five pounds of dried apricots. Cook slowly in water to cover until the stones may be easily removed after they have been soaked over night. Next morning cook and drain and add four pounds of sugar and a quarter of the water in which they were stewed. Cook slowly until reduced to a marmalade.

Prune Pie.—Bake a deep shell and fill with stewed prunes put through a colander, mixed with whipped cream. Garnish with spoonfuls of cream sweetened and flavored with a few drops of almond and finish with a shapely stewed prune, stuffed with nuts on top of each wedge of pie.

HAS CATAPULT TO LAUNCH AIRCRAFT

Invention of Captain Washington I. Chambers Heralded as Most Practical Appliance Assuring Successful Use of Seaplanes From Deck of Warships.

What is styled a revolutionary stride in aeronautics is the invention of Captain Washington I. Chambers, a native of Kingston and son-in-law of the late Charles Fennell, whose new contrivance makes possible the launching of an aircraft from the deck of a warship. The new device, which is illustrated in a full page illustrated article on the new device from which great things are expected by naval and naval experts.

The Chambers' idea is a novel aeroplane catapult and is now mounted upon the deck of the battleship North Carolina, a vessel of fifty feet in length is used upon which is operated a small car bearing the aeroplane. Compressed air furnishes the motive power by which a speed of fifty miles an hour is attained in the brief space provided. At the end of the track, the car is stopped by brakes and the aeroplane is released, which sails off into the air on an even keel and ready to obey the first impulse from its propeller.

The device is heralded as one of the first practical pieces of apparatus for the launching of hydro-aeroplanes from the decks of ships at sea. It is said to be far in advance of any similar device in use by foreign navies at this time and much is being anticipated of Captain Chambers' invention as a consequence.

Choir Concert.

The Quartet Choir of the First Presbyterian Church on Elmendorf street, under the leadership of Ford Hummel, violinist, will give a concert for the benefit of the church music, at the church on Wednesday evening of this week. ### Presbyterian Missionary Meeting.

A regular meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Roundout Presbyterian Church will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The program is an interesting one. The devotional exercises will be in charge of Mrs. P. A. Campbell; roll call will be quotations from Hagartha. A paper on the Red Man and the Boy Scout Movement will be read by Mrs. Charles R. O'Connor and Mrs. M. C. Holmes will read a paper on Indian Handicraft, manual training in the Indian schools. The hostess will be Mrs. M. C. Holmes.

"Oak Farm" Wednesday Night.

Wednesday evening in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. the young people of the Church of the Comforter will present the three-act comedy drama "Oak Farm." The cast of characters is a notable one and the play is assured of a very successful presentation. It is expected that there will be a large attendance, as the amateurs taking part are well-known and capable of handling the parts assigned them.

A Very Busy Plumber.

Martin McHugh, formerly manager of the Rosendale branch of the L. P. Ransom Company, who has been in business for himself for the past several months, is very busy. He is installing a complete bath room and fixtures in the Dunlop building at Rosendale and all new plumbing in the Loneflower House, lately purchased by Mr. Paetzkow of Brooklyn; also several smaller jobs.

HOSPITAL CORPS WAITING TO REMOVE WOUNDED. (CINIL. FILM. SERVICE.)

WAITING FOR LULL IN BATTLE TO REMOVE WOUNDED AT VERDUN.

Here are a few members of a French hospital corps at the battle of Verdun waiting for a lull in the heavy bombardment to remove their wounded to a base hospital in the rear. Because of the grey-blue coats and steel helmets which the hospital men wear, they cannot be easily distinguished from the regular soldiers.

Daily Thought.

If a man examines his thoughts, he will find them all occupied with the past and the future. We hardly ever think about the present. . . . Thus, always laying ourselves out to be happy (in the future) it is inevitable that man cannot be so actually.—Pascal.

Missed Both Ways.

What is the difference between a man who has seen Niagara, a man who has not seen Niagara and a ham sandwich? One has seen the mist, the other has missed the scene. Do you want to know where the ham sandwich comes in? Well, that's where you bite.

Achieving Fame or Fortune.

"There is no more common thought among young people than the foolish one that by and by something will turn up by which they will suddenly achieve fame or fortune. Things do not turn up in this world unless somebody turns them up."—James A. Garfield.

SOCIETY NOTES.

A party was held at the home of Sam Amen, 252 Broadway, on Wednesday, March 29, in honor of his daughter, Lena's, eighth birthday. Selections were played on the piano by James Amen during the time the refreshments were being served. Games were played and the prizes were won by James Amen and Rodney Dubois. All departed for their homes at eight o'clock after having had a very enjoyable time. Those present were Julia Curtin, Lena Amen, Lily Cotolito, Geraldine Schuler, Julia Schuler, and Franklin Miller, Kenneth Miller, Robert Perry, William Hagerty, Joseph Hagerty, Rodney Dubois and James Amen.

A delightful card dance was given at Mechanics' Hall on Henry street Friday night in honor of the G. A. Club, twenty-one couples being present as follows: The Misses Lillian Kolts, Kittle Becker, Helen Diamond, Laura Gackenhelm, Carrie Cism, Kathleen Dero, Lena Kohler, Kathryn Haber, Lillian Wolf, Edith Gochen, Helen Casdie, Annabelle Diamond, Miss Carpenter, Carrie Cahill, Cornelia Hopper, Eva Palen, Harriet Welch, Gladys Fraleigh, Hilda Kolts, Emma Dittmar, Freda Schwagerl, and Messrs. H. Weber, Fred Weber, Louis Keger, Robert Brown, Lester Elmendorf, Frank Rafferty, George Schantz, Ray Walter, William Michael, James McKee, Harold Brers, James Van Valkenburgh, George Dittmar, Thomas Dolan, Harry Sweeney, Clarence Schoonmaker, John Rowland, James Cahill, Louis Seeman, Frank McConnell and H. M. Britcliffe. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Richard Johnson.

A Few Faithful Scouts.

There were a few faithful Scouts at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday, to pick oakum and have it in readiness for the workers under the supervision of the Circles of Mercy to use when they meet on Thursday morning. Troop I was represented by George Allen, Harold Otis, Arthur Thompson and John Reid. Troop II, by James Hill, Harold Morgan, Christopher Messenger and Wilford Hahn; Troop III, by Fred Schloff and William Paulus.

Flower Lecture.

A most unusual lecture on flowers will be given at the auditorium of the High School, on the afternoon of Wednesday, April 12, under the auspices of the Ulster Garden Club for the benefit of the home gardens of the school children of the city. Superintendent Michael and the principals of the schools are deeply interested in this work. The high school students will be admitted to this lecture for ten cents and adults for twenty-five, the lecture to begin at 3:15 o'clock. The lecturer will be Herbert W. Faulkner, who will present the wonderful flower charts prepared by William Hamilton Gibson, botanist. There will also be beautiful colored slides of wild flowers of every season. The subject of the lecture will be "The Mysteries of the Flowers," which is a much more charming title than "cross fertilization," and yet will deal with that very matter.

Ruth Dero Tomorrow Evening.

Tomorrow evening Miss Ruth Dero, of international fame as a pianist of rare gifts and skill, will give her long and pleasantly anticipated recital at Association Hall under the patronage of Wilkrecht Chapter, D. A. R. Following is the complete program for the evening: Fantasiestück, Op. III—Arabesque—Nocturne, No. 2 ..... Schumann Sicilienne—Toccata, G Major ..... Bach Intermezzo, B flat ..... Brahms Mazurka, Op. 6, No. 1 ..... Chopin Scherzo, Op. 39—Prelude ..... R. Dero Clair de lune ..... Debussy Concert Prelude ..... Mac Dowell

Following the concert, the entire audience is invited to an informal reception to be given Miss Dero, whom we of Ulster county claim in a sense, because of her parentage, by Mrs. Elding, regent of the Chapter.

Remember Festival Rehearsal.

All singers in this city are reminded of the first rehearsal of the Oratorio of Elijah, to be given at this year's Spring Music Festival. This rehearsal will take place at Symphony Hall, in the Crosby building, corner Wall and John streets, on Wednesday evening of this week, at eight o'clock. Norman Coke-Jephcott, being ready to go through the music with the chorus at that time. The copies of the work will be on hand for the rehearsal and each chorus member will be expected to pay fifty cents for the same on receipt of his or her copy. All persons so desiring may register as members of the chorus on Monday and Tuesday afternoons and evenings, as well as on Wednesday, by telephoning Symphony Hall or calling there. The telephone number is 1719. Mr. Coke-Jephcott especially invites the men to attend the rehearsals at the beginning, if possible.

Fine Music In Catskill.

The many friends made by the Catskill chorus and Charles J. Bagley, their leader and master of ceremonies at the Music Festival held here last year, will be pleased to hear of the fine musical production recently given in Catskill. On Sunday afternoon last the Cantata of "Ruth" was given by forty-five singers, under Mr. Bagley's leadership, at the Presbyterian Church, when several hundred people were turned away after the seating capacity of the church was taxed to its limit. The criticisms of the work were indeed laudatory, both as to the work of the chorus and the soloists. The instrumental part of the work was played by Miss Bertha Hammer, organist; Philip Elmendorf, cornetist; Clarence B. Sage, cellist; and Miss Hazel Tuttle, violinist. The two last mentioned musicians are well known here in Kingston. The Catskill people are indeed to be congratulated, as are Mr. Bagley and the performers.

McAllister, $10; his stenographer, Dorothy Moser, $50; Arthur Bailey of West Chester street, $100; Harold Terhune, formerly with Lawrence Barnum & Company of New York city, his gold watch; his brother-in-law, Alphonse Jorgens, his gold watch chain; Mrs. Dorothy Chipp, King of Fair street, $250; Mrs. Chipp's sister, Elinor Chipp, $100; her father, Howard Chipp, his two daughters, her husband, Harold King, $50. His cousin Louise Ward McAllister, is to have $500 which she is to expend for the support of Lorraine Brennan, infant daughter of James S. Brennan of Wilbur avenue, in case said Lorraine Brennan does not attend the Roman Catholic parochial or sectarian schools during the continuance of this bequest. He bequeaths a like amount to the same cousin for the care and maintenance of James Brennan and Edward Brennan, infants of the same parents, the bequests being made on the same conditions as mentioned above. All the rest of his estate the testator gives to his sister, Mrs. Harriet Guion of Litchfield, Conn., who was named administratrix with will annexed because of the death of Aaron Wesley Thompson, who was appointed executor by the terms of the will as drawn up by the deceased. The will, dated September 23, 1913, was witnessed by Isidor Simpson and Mark Samson. Everett Fowler appeared for the administratrix.

Letters of administration in the estate of Frances A. Keener, who died at Saugerties March 24, have been granted to William Keener, husband of the deceased. The value of the estate is $1,500 real and personal property not exceeding $50.

The postponed hearing today in the judicial settlement of the estate of the account of Lillian B. Klotche and Eleanor Klotche, as executrices of the estate of Mrs. Lillian Klotche of this city, was again adjourned to the afternoon of April 25. James Phelan objected to the account as filed because the estate owed him money. Later Rufus Carle filed objections and since the last hearing it is said that Gregory & Company have a bill against the estate for insurance. Although $2,500 in insurance has been collected, about $500 is said to be due. It was reported that Gregory today that there would be money for the settlement of the estate and that the estate of the Klotches and John T. Cahill for executor James A. Phelan.

THIRTEEN YEAR OLD TRAPSHOOTER SENDS OUT CHALLENGE.

Carlisle, Pa., April 2.—Thirteen year old Kirk Shearer, son of former Internal Revenue Collector Raymond E. Shearer, has issued a challenge to any person under fifteen years, from anywhere in the Eastern States, to meet him at a live or clay pigeon shoot. This challenge covers the states of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland.

Kirk, although thirteen years old, has been shooting from the time he was able to hold a gun and is fast becoming the front as one of the best amateur trapshooters in the country.

Several years ago, when with great difficulty he could hold a double barrel shotgun, he defeated one of the oldest and finest field shoots in this section at the traps of the Carlisle Gun Club. Recently in a live bird match held here he tied two of the crack shots of southern Pennsylvania for the honors. As a member of the Laurel Rifle Club, Kirk helped to kill five live deer and he never missed a drive or was laid up during the hunt.

Last week in a match in Harrisburg where the best Philadelphia team was shooting the best of the Harrisburg gunners in a special match, Kirk killed thirteen out of fifteen live birds.

A Fine Judge of Eggs.

The chicken is an animal that very few people should possess. There is no finer judge of eggs in existence than a chicken. In fact, makes a simple thing all his life, and he is not particular whether they are hen's eggs or turkey's eggs so long as they are eggs. It is impossible to deceive the animal with regard to their freshness. If a dozen fresh and partly fresh eggs are mixed up together the wily little animal will pick out the fresh ones with a certainty and quickness that are positively amazing. At the zoo he is provided only with the genuine newly laid. He would have to be in a very bad way before touching an egg that was "shop laid."

Filth of Erzerum.

Erzerum, the Armenian city, is, from the European point of view, one of the most undesirable places of residence upon earth. It stands more than 6,000 feet above the sea, and in winter the temperature falls to 20 degrees below zero, while in the passes by which it is approached rages the fiercest blizzard. But Erzerum is at its worst in summer owing to the appalling lack of sanitation. The people simply pile their refuse of all kinds on the pavement before their houses, which pavement has long become invisible, and mortality is so heavy that of twelve children, a common family, it is lucky if six survive.—London Chronicle.

Watchful Waiting.

Mother—Gladys, you stood on the porch quite awhile with that young man last night. Gladys—Why, mother, I only stood there for a second. Mother—But I'm sure I heard the third and the fourth.—Pitt Panther.

Mythology of Dragons.

The mythology of dragons is immensely mixed. The one thing certain seems to be that of the many writers who describe them not one ever saw them. Many of the descriptions come nearer to a winged crocodile than anything else, and the conjecture that the dragon idea was developed from some tradition of an extinct saurian seems probable. In the Greek lore of southern Europe the "drakos" becomes the ogre of the nursery. He takes a human wife, hunts, is an expert in horsemanship and lives, of course, in a palace. Andrew Lang pointed out that the modern Greek story of "the last Drakos" is the same as that told in Scotland of "the last Pict."

GENTLEMEN:

We take great pleasure in introducing to you this morning

"DRESS-UP WEEK"

IT begins tomorrow, and some people call it "Fashion week." It is the latest national institution, and a very worthy one.

Like "Paint-up Week" and such events, "Dress-up Week" is intended to stir things up; give a man a few thoughts about his duty to himself and his associates.

The purpose of "Dress-up week" is to remind you that maybe you need new clothes; that maybe you ought to take more interest in your appearance; that maybe your wife and children are tired of that old suit; that the new spring clothes are ready for you.

Now, don't say to yourself, "I am a practical business man, no time for fussing about clothes." If you feel that way, look around at some of the other practical business men of this town; see if some of them don't look more businesslike because they do "fuss" a little about clothes.

The day has gone by when men were ashamed to dress well; nowadays we find that most all ages like the confidence given by wearing a well cut, smart looking suit or overcoat.

So take account of stock; look over the "stand-bys" and see if they haven't stood by you too long.

Take a little interest in the "dress-up" idea; we're ready to help you when you do.

DIVIDEND OF TWO PER CENT. GIVEN

Kingston Factory Corporation Holds Annual Election at Which Encouraging Reports are Made—President Cook Re-elected.

Most encouraging in every way were the reports submitted today at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Kingston Factory Corporation held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at city hall. President A. H. Cook presided and the various officers presented reports for the past year.

In his report, President Cook emphasized the fact that since last August the two concerns which are occupying the Factory Corporation building have been paying out in wages in this city an average of $1,800 per week. There has been about eight employed in the upper floor of the Pressenden Company and an average of 100 men and boys employed on the lower floor occupied by the Herbert Brush Company.

Herbert Carl rendered his report as treasurer showing receipts of $1,250 in rentals for the year ending April 1st, while disbursements came to $742 in addition to which an old note of $300 was wiped out. The report shows $225.48 on hand and $139 rent due April 1st.

The company's property is valued at $18,000 on which the building represents $14,000. The building is mortgaged for $5,000.

The auditing committee (composed of Peter Harman and M. Clyde Crosby) reported the accounts correct.

Inspectors of election were then chosen in Charles B. Everett and E. F. McFadden.

Directors were then chosen as follows: Albert H. Cook, Herbert Carl, Sam Bernstein, John E. Mahar, Addison D. Pardee, Nicholas Stock, James A. Betts, E. F. McFadden and Charles B. Everett.

The following officers were then chosen by the board of directors: Albert H. Cook, president; Herbert Carl, vice-president; Nicholas Stock, treasurer; J. E. Canfield, secretary.

The stockholders were invited to participate in the meeting of the directors which took up the matter of a dividend. It was decided that a semi-annual dividend of two per cent be declared.

The directors voted that the corporation take out a membership in the Chamber of Commerce for assistance rendered. The meeting was pronounced the most enthusiastic since the company was organized three years ago and directors and stockholders were much pleased with the prospects for the new year upon which such a good start is being made.

Wearing Your Rubbers.
How to elude your wife when she insists that you positively must wear your rubbers when you go out—
"Well, my dear, I don't want to do it. This will produce in her an attitude of resignation, and she will almost forgive you for not wearing them for giving her a chance to act the role of a martyr."

Second—Say that you never wore rubbers before you were married. She will then tell you that you were always sick, too, and will work herself into a jovial glow by thinking what good care she is taking of you.

Third—Wear the rubbers to keep peace in the family.—Judge.

Always Careful.
"Why is it that old 'Joefist' never has anything to say?"

"Just a development of his general character and disposition. He is miserably over with the parts of speech."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Hot Compresses Needed.

Here is a method of preparing hot compresses for the sick when moist heat is required, which it would be well for all housewives to know about. Take a double cooker, partially fill lower part with water, and place over fire. Wring out pieces of wet flannel until as dry as possible, and place in upper half of cooker. Place upper part in lower, and when the water boils the flannels are ready to apply. No wringing is necessary.

He's Calling You

Yes, Youngster, the business man is calling you to come to his office and be his office boy and he is calling every day this month of April.

Just turn to the Want Columns and see if this is not true. There you will find all sorts of appeals for quick active boys who are ambitious to succeed.

Lot of the richest men in the world got their starts this way and you can get yours likewise, if you will let the Want Columns help you.

Not So Slow for Philadelphia.

"Willie," cried Willie's mother, "come right in the house this very minute and go to work on your arithmetic."

"No, ma," returned Willie. "I want to grow up a law-abiding citizen and the Pennsylvania legislature just passed a law forbidding child labor."—Life.

WHO OWNS THE HORSE?

Policeman O'Neill to Rescue—Horse Now Awaits Owner.

There was some excitement downtown today in which the services of Policeman O'Neill were needed to prevent a horse being deserted on the streets. From what could be learned, Mr. Werbalowsky of Meadow street sold a horse to Mr. Siller of Chambers street and hired a colored man to lead the horse over to the Siller barn, paying the colored man ten cents for his services.

When the colored man and the horse reached the Siller barn the barn door was locked and Mr. Siller refused to open the door and receive the horse. On the other hand he paid the negro ten cents to take the horse back to Mr. Werbalowsky.

The negro did so but he found that Mr. Werbalowsky had locked his barn door and refused to take the horse back.

The negro was at a standstill with the horse on his hands and knew not what to do. He has been determined after scratching his head for ideas to abandon the horse on the street. At this juncture Policeman O'Neill appeared on the scene and forbade the negro to abandon the horse.

"But boss," said the negro, "what shall I do?"

"Put him in a barn," advised the officer.

"But I have no barn," replied the negro.

Finally the negro on the advice of the officer took the horse over to Flannery's livery on Mill street, where the animal now awaits the owner, who may have it by paying for the horse's board.

RIVER NOW OPEN TO NAVIGATION

First Tow of Season Left For New York Today—Steamer Odell Reached Rondout From New York Sunday—Ice Has Gone Out.

The Hudson river between this port and New York city is practically clear of ice and the steamer Odell of the Central Hudson line which left New York on Saturday afternoon reached Rondout Sunday morning about 8:30 o'clock and experienced no difficulty in making the trip. The boat left for New York this morning at 11 o'clock. She will make regular trips now on leaving Rondout every Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The first tow of the season left for New York this morning in charge of the Cornell tugs Washburn and Baker. The tow was made up of about twenty-five loaded barges, the majority of which carried ice for the New York market.

The Rondout creek and the river in this vicinity presents an expanse of clear water with but little ice and that along the shores.

DAIRY POINTERS.

You can place the salt where the cows can get at it and trust to their judgment as to the amount they need.

The dairy cow should essentially be a large and rich milker. Incomplete milking tends to check the flow and shorten the milking period.

Build the milkhous with no ledges inside to catch the dust and collect wrenches, milk bottles and so forth.

Regularity in milking is essential to the best results.

IMPORTANCE OF DAIRY CLEANLINESS

(Prepared by United States department of agriculture.)

Every owner of a dairy herd should consider it his duty to himself and to the community to keep only healthy cows, supply them with wholesome feed and keep them in clean, comfortable quarters. He will also find it to be the most profitable way.

The milkers and all who handle the milk should realize that they have in their charge a food which is easily contaminated and should therefore take all reasonable precautions to prevent the milk from becoming a source of danger to themselves and to others.

The consumer should understand that clean, safe milk is worth more and that its production costs more than milk which contains dirt and disease germs; therefore he should be willing to pay more for it than for dirty milk, which is dear at any price.

The consumer is interested in clean milk primarily because no one cares to use a food not produced and handled under sanitary conditions. There is a more direct interest, however, because of the danger of contracting disease which may be communicated by this means. Serious epidemics of typhoid fever, septic sore throat, and other diseases have spread by means of the milk supply. The weight of scientific evidence at present leads to the conclusion that tuberculosis may be transmitted from animals to human beings, particularly children who consume raw milk containing tubercle bacilli.

Cleanliness is not an absolute safeguard against disease, but it is the greatest factor in preventing contamination of milk. From the health point of view there is great danger not only from specific disease producing bacteria, but from milk that contains large numbers of miscellaneous bacteria which may cause serious digestive troubles, especially in infants and invalids whose diet consists chiefly of milk. There is also the minor consideration of the loss to the consumer by milk souring or otherwise spoiling before it can be used. The cleaner the milk the longer it will keep good and sweet.

Clean milk not only benefits the consumer, but the milk producer who will consider this subject from an unbiased standpoint will find many ways in which he himself

DEALERS TO GET THEIR MONEY BACK

Exhibitors at the auto show will have returned to them all the money which they expended for space, according to the estimate of Chairman Everett Fowler of the executive committee. This is one of the best proofs of the success of the first exhibition of the kind which Kingston has tackled and shows the interest which the public manifested by their presence at the show. Middle-town dealers had only 13 per cent of their money refunded while the percent at the Poughkeepsie show was 25. Perhaps Kingston may have established a record in this respect, and all are anxiously awaiting the meeting of the executive committee Wednesday night when the finances will be discussed.

PENNANT BATTLERS IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

Old and New Faces in Major Circuit.

able to deliver the timely wallop. But it was lacking.

This year, declares Wilbert Robinson, those Dodgers are going to hit—and hit consistently. Furthermore, they have gained reserve strength through the acquisition of some good-looking youngsters.

Joe Tinker insists that he's going to lead his Cubs-Whales outfit to the crest of the National league. He ought to. The morning of the two clubs gave him the chance to choose from over fifty real ball players. Tinker's big problem has been to decide which men to keep. He's allowed but 21. If he makes the proper selection, he should have a combination that will be hard to beat.

Cards Don't Figure.

The Cardinals seem doomed to the second division—and a deep-down place, too. They haven't been strengthened as have the other clubs, and although Miller Huggins has some good pitchers and some fairly good fielders, he lacks real batting power.

It looks like New York. Boston, Chicago and Brooklyn to fight it out for first-division honors, with Cincinnati and the Philadelphia in the "dark-horse" class, and Pittsburgh and St. Louis to battle to a finish for the cellar place.

LEE MAGEE BECOMES MODEST

Erstwhile Leader of Brookfeds, Now Member of Donovan's Tribe of Yankees, Loses Egotism.

Lee Magee, erstwhile leader of the Brookfeds and recently enrolled member of Bill Donovan's tribe of Yankees, has become modest since his return to the ranks of organized ball. Several weeks ago it was remarked that Lee led the Federal league in egotism last year. It seems that such a statement will not be applicable to him this year, in proof of which is appended a quotation from an article signed by him and appearing in one of the New York papers:

"I have always desired to see how I would shape up alongside the great Ty Cobb."

Lee Magee.

Cobb. It would be hoping too much to be another Cobb. But if I am considered next to Ty Cobb, it would suit me pretty well."

How like the shrinking violet for Lee to acknowledge that one man is his superior!

To Revive English Sports.

The English track and field championships may be revived this year. The games were dropped last year because of the war, but the English athletic authorities are of the opinion that conditions are favorable to again stage the events. Germany, too, may hold a series of contests in the stadium at Berlin, built two years ago for the Olympic games, which were scheduled for next July.
